

Stuart Pattison, President and CEO, Commerce Bank

Stuart Pattison joined Commerce Bank in Sept. 2009 as President and CEO, Stuart is responsible for growing the client base in Commercial Banking, Health Care, Real Estate, and Retail areas of the bank as well as supporting the Commerce franchise growth initiative in the Denver market. In addition to increasing profitability in all franchise lines of business, Stuart is accountable for the Colorado revenue, expense management, profitability and credit quality.

With more than 24 years in the banking industry, Stuart formally held the position as Colorado District President for KeyBank. Prior to joining KeyBank, Stuart held leadership positions with Compass Bank and U.S.Bank in Colorado and Presidential Savings Bank/GIT Investment Funds in Washington, DC.

Stuart received a B.S. in Finance and Marketing from Old Dominion University in 1987 and his MBA from Colorado State University in 1995. Active in civic endeavors, he has held many board positions and is past Chairmen of the Metro Denver Sports Commission and is a Senior advisory council member for the CSU MBA program. Stuart also spends time volunteering for local charities and coaching his children's athletic teams. Stuart, his wife and three children reside in Parker, Colorado.

Jack Keating, Vice President and Regional Sales Manager, Commerce Bank Corporate Card Group

As the west region manager of Commerce Bank's Corporate Card group, Jack Keating is responsible for managing all sales activities in the 11 western states, managing all partnership relationships and new business development.

He started his career with Northwest Airlines in 1979. His career in finance and credit cards began in 1987 when he began working for Chancellor Corp a finance lease company. He then joined Citibank and began working with credit cards and payables solutions.

He is a graduate of Northeastern University in Boston, MA

Peter Spina, Vice President and Commercial Banking Relationship Manager, Commerce Bank

Peter has over 10 years experience in the finance industry and joined the Commerce team in March of 2010. In his role as relationship manager he is responsible for developing new banking relationships with companies in most industry types throughout the state.

Before joining Commerce Bank, Peter spent 5 years at GE Capital in the Corporate Finance and Equipment Finance divisions.

Peter received a BA in Economics from Williams College in Williamstown, MA. Currently he is heavily involved in programs at the Denver Chamber of Commerce and Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Colorado. He and his wife reside in Denver.